Committee members wanted!

AlmanakCie

Every year Cover makes its own yearbook, or almanac. This is a booklet in which an overview of the year is given, together with some pictures and small texts written by the different committees we have. To get a view of what this looks like, just find one in the SLACK, there will be several laying around. Do you feel like contributing this great piece of art, viewing back on this year, or do you just have some questions about the AlmanakCie? Please contact the commissioner of internal affairs before the 23rd of September.

EerstejaarsCie

Are you a first year student, and do you want to be actively involved with Cover, but are you unsure what to do? The EerstejaarsCie is a committee specifically for first-year students to see what it is like to be in a committee. With a couple of other first-year students you will organize four fun events aimed at your fellow first-year students! Are you interested in the EerstejaarsCie, or do you have any more questions? Contact our commissioner of internal affairs! before the 23rd of September, 23:59h.

ExCie

The ExCie is one of the biggest committees Cover has. It organizes a week-long field trip to a country in Europe. During this field trip you will experience numerous cultural, relaxing and study-related activities. For example, you will visit some big city's university and some well known firms. A small committee had already been formed, but they still need some more men (or women!) before they can start. Are you interested in organizing a fun international trip, or do you have any more questions? Speak with our commissioner of internal affairs as soon as you can!

MeisCie

Do you like organizing events with a female touch? Would you like to help men explore their more female side? Or would you just like to organize three activities a year with a committee consisting of other girls? Come help the MeisCie! The MeisCie aims to organize original activities, which are focussed on Covers girls, at which the boys are welcome as well, of course. If you would like to help the MeisCie, or have some questions, contact our commissioner of internal affairs before the 16th of September, 23:59h.

StudCie

The StudCie is the committee that organizes almost all of Covers study-related activities. It frequently organizes lectures from interesting speakers and in-house days at different companies. Some examples of the firms we have been, or have given a lecture are: ZiuZ, Paylogic, ING and Capgemini. Would you also like to organize loads of interesting study-related activities? Join the StudCie! If you want to join, please contact the commissioner of internal affairs before the 16th of September, 23:59h.

And more!

These are just a few of the committees which need reinforcements. Soon, you will all receive an e-mail with a more extensive list of all committees that need new blood! You can also ask the commissioner of internal affairs about one of our committees. Whether you would like to join one, or just have some general questions, just come to us!

Announcements of the board

Start of the new year

Welcome (back)!

Welcome back everyone! We hope you all had some great holidays and are ready for a fresh start this year! Unfortunately the first news letter of the year came a bit late, due to a hectic start of the new year and we wanted to wait until most of the new first-year students were on the mailing list.

The SLACK

Yo momma doesn't work here

As you all know, the SLACK is Covers members room. Here you can eat, drink and relax in between classes (or whenever you want, actually). However, your mom doesn't work here, so please clean up your own mess! Throw your garbage in the trash cans, and when you use a cup/mug or plate, please wash it. This way we can all happily keep on SLACKing in our pretty room.

General member meeting

Because one is not enough!

Because of the length of the constitutional member meeting last year, the board has decided to split the topics for this years' constitutional member meeting into two general member meetings. In the first meeting some serious topics will be discussed, such as the annual financial report. The second member meeting will be focussed of the consitution of the candidate board. Unfortunately, our regular location is not available to us anymore, hence the member meeting will be held elsewhere. The new location will be announced in the invitation, which you all can expect tomorrow.

Thursday 26th of September, general member meeting @ ???, 19:00

Monday 14th of ctober, Contitutional member meeting @ ???, 21:00

Groningen Student Programming Contest

Get ready for the BAPC

The BAPC is the Benelux AlgoCover newsletter

9th of September (next newsletter 23rd of September)

rithm Programming Contest, a programming contest organized for students and firms all over the Benelux.

This year the BAPC will be organised in Utrecht. However, every university organizes its own preliminary rounds, since there is only a limited number of teams which can participate. So, if you would like to participate in the BAPC, or would just like to see what it is to participate in a programming contest at all, come to the Groningen Student Programming Contest! Teams consist of at most 3 persons. More information on the day and contest itself will follow. For now we hope it suffices to say that the preliminaries will be held on the 28th of September in the Bernoulliborg. If you have any questions, or wish to register please send an e-mail to the board.

Saturday 28th of September, GSPC @ The Bernoulliborg

Accepted membership requests

Old new members

Lianne van Essen and Rob Tierolff have both requested to remain members for this year, regardless of them not doing a study at the university. Since they will both remain actively involved with Cover, the board has decided to accept these requests. We hope you guys will have a good time with Cover!
